

Stacey Bennett:

My story began when I started searching for answers. I found answers, more than that, I found myself, the divine. I had always just known things and felt them more deeply it seemed.

As I explored everything I could get my hands on I found my love for unicorns had drawn me to the Unicorn Tarot and I flourished. In doing Tarot readings I was able to use the energy that I felt and heard answers to questions without the questions being asked.

I have been doing readings publicly for 18 years now. In doing this work I discovered having a special knack for finding those areas that need healing and use energy to reduce and rid the body of what it no longer needs. I also use Reiki and Hypnotherapy to help release traumas as well.

My Angels and guides are helping me to open up more recently to giving messages when needed from the other side. My intent is to help others and help them embrace the wellness within.
